

MADISON WILL BE BUSY PLACE

La Follette And Connor And Davidson To Fight For Control Of The Party.

ALL DELEGATES BEING PLEDGED

Nailed As Soon As They Arrive, And Argued With In A Very Proper Manner By The Rival Campaign Managers.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Sept. 24.—Senator Robert M. La Follette is making a strenuous effort to round up enough votes to control the republican state platform convention which meets here tomorrow noon. He is personally on the ground with his aides, Col. John J. Hannan, private secretary; Herman L. Ekern, assemblyman and candidate for speaker, and various others, who have been watching carefully for the arriving nominees, who make up the convention, and inviting them to "meet the senator" in his law office here.

Others Work
Almost equally strenuous is the campaign being carried on by State Chairman W. D. Connor and Governor James O. Davidson, who have their own ideas regarding the platform and do not agree with Senator La Follette in regard to what the party declaration should contain. There will be two big fights in the convention—one over the formulation of the platform and the second over the election of a chairman of the state central committee, who will manage the republican campaign in this state this fall.

Little Difference
The La Follette program on the platform differs little from the Connor-Davidson program in principles, but each side is desirous of formulating the creed. One difference of opinion is that La Follette wants to declare for the republican gubernatorial campaign, and also by Senator La Follette, but laughed at by Governor Davidson and his friends on the stump. The La Follette people will surely fight for such a plank and the Davidson people will oppose it. Chances favor the defeat of the proposal.

Second Choice
Another difference of opinion is in regard to a "second choice" or "cumulative" system of voting for party nominees in the primary election. This is advocated by Senator La Follette and opposed by Mr. Connor and Governor Davidson. La Follette says it will eliminate the possibility of a minority candidate getting the nomination when several candidates in the field. The scheme is for each voter to signify his second choice as the nominee, and then if there is no majority nomination on first choice votes, the second choices are counted. This scheme was before the special session of the legislature and Chairman Connor was able to defeat it. This was the occasion for the break between him and Senator La Follette, then governor. It is believed here that this proposal, called the "Mary Ann" bill, will not be pressed by the La Follette people. The system is so complicated that it is hard for the layman to understand and perhaps it is for this reason that it has become exceedingly unpopular.

State Chairman
The fight for the state chairmanship is the most bitter of any involved in this convention. The La Follette people have united upon W. H. Dick of New London, partner of Senator W. H. Hatten of that place. Mr. Hatten will not be a member of the convention because he was not renominated for re-election. However, he is on the ground here managing his partner's campaign. The Davidson-Connor side has not united upon a candidate, but is nevertheless united in the determination to have its own way in the matter. Chairman W. D. Connor, who was "discovered and made" by La Follette two years ago, is the choice now of Governor Davidson, but does not want to longer hold the place in view of the fact that he is the party nominee for lieutenant governor.

Eskmann Favored
William L. Essmann, general manager of the Madison Journal, is the choice of the Davidson-Connor side for state chairman.

SHOEMAKERS ADOPT STRIKE-PLATFORM

President Tobin of Conservative Faction and Accused of Grafting Has Been Ousted.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—At the general offices of the Boot and Shoe Makers' Union of the United States and Canada an official announcement was made today of the election of Thomas B. Hickey to succeed John F. Tobin as president of the union. The selection was made through the medium of a referendum vote. The election of Hickey is thought will be of great significance to the shoe industry in America, and the manufacturers here particularly interested as the change of administration is likely to herald a change in the policy of the union. During the seven years President Tobin was at the helm labor troubles between the boot and shoe workers and their employers were comparatively few and unimportant, the only considerable disturbance being the protracted struggle in Lynn over two years ago between rival labor organizations which tied up the industry in that city for a year. Arbitration was favored by the Tobin administration, while one of the planks in the Hickey platform is "We'll win or we'll strike."

FIVE BUILDINGS ARE NEW

Faculty Increased by Six New Professors, Twenty-three Instructors, and Twenty-nine Assistants.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 24.—The University of Wisconsin begins its fifty-sixth year today with largely increased facilities for the instruction of the thousands of students attending, and for the accommodation of the growing number of those who are doing advanced and special research work.

There are five new buildings on the campus, either completed or in process of construction. Six professors have been added to the faculty, as well as twenty-three new instructors and twenty-nine new assistants in various departments. Many new courses have been added to the curriculum, and various departments have been materially strengthened.

Five New Buildings.

Of the five new buildings three will be occupied at once, and the other two will be completed before the end of the first semester. The administrative offices in the law building and university hall were so crowded as to make necessary the erection of a new building in the near future. Temporary provision has been made by remodeling a two-story stone residence 30x50 feet in size. This new administration building is in an excellent location at the foot of the upper campus, south of the university library, and is already occupied by the offices of the president, treasurer, and regents. The new hydraulic laboratory is completed and ready for the use of students of hydrology, and those engaged in special investigation of problems in water power and water supply. The building stands on the shore of Lake Mendota, near the college of engineering. It is constructed of reinforced concrete and is three stories high, 48x95 feet. The new north wing of university hall is nearing completion, and will soon be ready for occupancy by the classes of the college of letters and science which have hitherto been much com-moded. The new wing will practically double the capacity of the building.

The two new buildings of the college of agriculture are also in process of construction. The agricultural engineering building, three stories high and 50x150 feet, is constructed of reinforced concrete, faced with dark brown paving brick, and trimmed with white Bedford stone. The agrionomy building, of the same material, is to be two stories high and 48x95 feet.

Both will add much to the facility of instruction in the agricultural college.

Six More Professors.

As the new buildings are a physical sign of the growth of the university,

so the addition of six new professors shows the continuation of the policy of the president and regents to strengthen the different departments

omities for the past eight years. Some years ago, on his return from his studies at the University of Göttingen, Germany, Dr. Van Vleck held a position as instructor of mathematics at the University of Wisconsin. He has done much work in mathematical research, and is recognized as one of the best mathematical men in the country. Dr. C. P. Hutchins, who is the new director of athletics, came from a similar position at Syracuse university, where he built up a demoralized department into one with a good standing among American universities. Professor W. D. Pence, the new head of the department of civil engineering, held the chair of civil engineering at Purdue university for seven years past. He is the author of a number of important works on engineering subjects. Professor Walter W. Cook, from the law department of the University of Missouri, has been given a professorship in the college of law at Wisconsin university.

Instructors and Assistants.

The faculty has been increased also by the addition of twenty-three more instructors and twenty-nine assistants in different departments. The new instructors are as follows: William E. Leonard and George N. Northrop, English; R. B. Mitchell, French; Fred C. Hicks, German; Herman T. Owen, music; L. J. Paetow, history; Max O. Lorenz and William H. Price, political economy; R. B. Scott, political science; E. P. R. Duval and Herman W. March, mathematics; O. P. Watts, chemical engineering; Edgar A. Lowe, electrical engineering; L. P. Halsey, hydraulics; D. E. Foster, mechanical drawing; Seth E. Moody, analytical chemistry; A. S. McDonald and H. W. Doughty, chemistry; Dr. Caleb A. Fuller, bacteriology; W. G. Marquette, botany; Dr. Andrew G. McClelland and E. R. Jones, soils; and T. Sidney Elston, physics.

Following are the newly appointed assistants: Walter E. Hoff, Edmund Willard and Leonard E. Bloomfield, German; J. C. Brown and Dr. R. Lee, Latin; Douglas Macduff, Romance; Janitor, Victor Isles and George V. Cousins; European history; J. E. Conger, American history; J. F. Scott, education; E. A. Jenner, psychology; Robert Campbell, political economy; J. E. Baker, political science; W. E. Atwell, business administration; Charles N. Hall, public speaking; N. C. Gilman, mathematics; Charles W. Hill, chemistry; A. R. Johnson, organic chemistry; A. R. Harris, official tester in agricultural chemistry; Karl O. Burrer, T. L. Bewick and B. W. Bridgman, physics; C. T. Vorhies, zoology; J. P. Blackman, physiology; Newton E. Wyson, bacteriology; C. W. Casey, mineralogy; James Milward, horticulture; Lawrence Martin, geology; O. L. Kowalek, chemical engineering.

Beside these, Mrs. Cora Staehnan Woodward has been appointed to the newly created position of adviser of women at the university. Mrs. Woodward has recently traveled in Europe visiting women's colleges there, and has also studied conditions in the educational institutions for women in America.

New Courses of Study.

Several new departments have been established this year, and new courses of study have been inaugurated in other departments. There are six courses in physiology and physiological chemistry—a part of the plan to develop a pre-medical course. Four new courses in Slavic philology are to be given by Dr. Edward Pross. Professor Pross has nine courses in sociology, and the department of education, romance languages, anatomy and biology have been developed. A new four-year course in journalism under Dr. W. G. Dwyer is offered. Courses in the college of law have been strengthened, and the university extension work has been much enlarged, with Henry E. Regier as secretary. New courses in business administration have been planned, correspondence courses in many different departments outlined, and the opportunities for the study of hydrology, farm engineering, and agronomy will be much increased upon the completion of the new buildings now under construction.

Read About Indians and Outdoor Life

In a little book that costs nothing, the book describes the Northwest, the land of the future. It is printed on the best of paper, is interesting, profusely illustrated and full of information. It is suitable for your own home, for schools, or libraries. It describes the wonderful Yellowstone Park, the wild Bitterroot Mountains in Montana, the Quantico Indians—almost unknown on the North Pacific Coast, the grand Columbia river scenery, the marvelous Puget Sound region and Alaska. It costs but the postage required to mail it. It will be sent you at once for six cents. The book is "WONDERLAND 1906," published by the Northern Pacific Railway, and is for general distribution. Send six cents to A. M. Cleland, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minnesota, or as many times six cents as you wish copies, with proper addresses, and the little volume will be promptly forwarded by that gentleman. Don't wait! The book has an object to educate and inform the public about the Northwest, the region that Lewis and Clark explored and made known to us. Help it perform its mission.

At the appointed hour Rev. Fathers J. M. Naughton of Madison, M. J. Ward of Beloit, M. A. Condon of Oregon, Jas. M. Harlan of Edgerton, E. M. McInchey of St. Patrick's, Janesville, and Eugene J. McCarthy of Janesville, took seats on the platform, at the south side of the church, the main floor already being filled with people, some seated and others standing. A collection was taken which amounted to $160.69. Then followed a very instructive and interesting sermon by Rev. J. M. Naughton of St. Raphael's church, Madison. Father Naughton is a fine speaker and took for his text, Eph. v. 25-27. While he touched upon many topics, his chief points were on the construction and organization of the church. After the sermon, the priests proceeded to the northeast corner of the foundation where impressive service was held in connection with the laying of the corner stone. Father Condon having charge of this part of the service. Papers, money, etc., were placed in a tin box which was incased in the stone. The corner stone was presented to St. Paul's congregation by F. M. Schlimgen, the well-known monument dealer of Madison. A few months ago Father Condon of Madison came to this city and held services and it was decided to continue these in our city hall every other Sunday morning. At first the congregations were small but they gradually grew larger, until at the present time the audience room is well filled each meeting. Several weeks ago Father Condon was taken seriously ill and is still very sick and his congregation regretted that he was unable to be present at the ceremonies held today. Since his illness Rev. E. J. McCarthy has had charge of the services, and is building up a fine congregation. He has taken an active part in the erection of the church thus far. Others who are laboring hard financially and otherwise, are D. F. Finnane, J. M. Dudenberger, and J. Hendricks, and many of the success so far accomplished has been due to the efforts of these gentlemen. The church will cost about $60,000, and will be 46x60, erected of Janesville sand lime brick. When completed and furnished it will cost about $100,000. J. A. Denning of Janesville is the contractor, and W. A. Meggott, the architect, is housed the building will be ready for roof in about three weeks, and for plaster early in November, and will be dedicated some time in January. Besides the six priests, there were present about thirty Knights of Columbus from Janesville and Beloit.

Admiral Brownson on Way to Assume Command of Asiatic Station.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Rear Admiral Brownson, commanding the armored cruiser squadron, now at Gibraltar, cabled the navy department that he would sail from that port Sunday, resuming his voyage to the Philippines.

The next stop will be at Italian ports, but owing to the regulations of the Italian government, that no more than three foreign warships may stop at an Italian port at the same time, it will be necessary to divide the cruiser squadron and two of the cruisers will go to Palermo and two to Naples.

After remaining at those ports four days the ships will proceed to the Piræus, in Greece, and stay for four days, leaving there for Port Said at the western entrance to the Suez canal; whence they will proceed by easy stages to Manila.

AN OBJECT LESSON

Mr. Clough, the promoter of the Madison Interurban, now seeking a franchise in Janesville, is engaged at the present time in building forty miles of road from his home town, Elyria, Ohio, a town by the way, about the size of the Bower City.

An speaking of the enterprise and his home city the other day, he said: "I wish the people of Janesville could visit my town and see for themselves what interurban roads have done for it."

"The city has two roads in operation and has just voted a bond issue of $75,000 to build a stone bridge for the road now in process of construction, so that it may enter the center of the city."

"Five hundred new houses are now building and industries are coming to us from all directions."

This, in short, is the history of what an Ohio town is doing, and the people attribute the prosperity largely to the influence of interurban roads.

Janesville is offered one of these roads and the growth of the town dollar, and why the council should hesitate for a moment is a problem that no one attempts to solve.

The city has long enjoyed an unenviable reputation for fighting railroad and the growth of the town has been dwarfed and stunted on that account.

We pride ourselves on our conservatism and yet allow the Elgin watch factory, the Berlin Machine works, and other enterprises of this character to slip through our fingers, while chasing the John Windy Hamilton bubble, the Art Study lunacy or the U-Pia-it fantasy and when it comes to rubber plantations and fake mining we certainly do shine.

The city needs a guardian more than it needs a health officer. A rat-hole in the zinc country is more attractive than exploring for gold dollars on our own premises when we know they are there.

The word "conservatism" covers a multitude of sins, and much that passes current for this virtue amounts to nothing more nor less than obstinacy when carefully analyzed.

The city of Elyria, like many other progressive cities, possesses no more in the way of natural advantages than the city of Janesville. It has just escaped the thrall of two or three men who were large property-owners and who found it difficult to take their belongings with them when transferred by an all wise providence to the life beyond.

The city is now in control of a progressive wideawake element, backed by a council in sympathy with it, and things are doing. The people are working together for the prosperity of the town and they have not been long in making the discovery that individual and municipal prosperity go hand in hand.

Janesville and her people will have the same experience when opportunity is turned loose and given a chance. Pass the franchise and the ball will be open.

TO STOP WILD-CAT MINING

The headquarters of the American

Congress is located at Denver, Colorado, and the ninth annual session of this organization is called for October 16 to 19, 1906. The object of the congress is to promote and encourage legitimate mining and to protect the public from fake schemes and wild-cat investments.

The organization seeks to interest the world at large and the United States in particular, and delegates are invited to be present from all sections of the country.

It is believed that through united action wholesome laws may be enacted for the protection of the public and for the encouragement of legitimate mining. The announcement says:

"A bill providing for the punishment of all mining fakirs and promoters of illegitimate mining enterprises will be drafted by the American Mining Congress at its annual session which will be held in Denver, Colorado, October 16th to 19th, inclusive. A committee composed of the best talent in the United States has been appointed to prepare and submit to the Mining Congress a draft of such bill. This committee comprises two United States senators, Robert M. La Follette (Wis.) and Fred T. Dubois (Idaho); one congressman, Eben W. Martin (South Dakota); and the governors of two states, Geo. C. Pardee (California) and Jos. W. Folk (Missouri). Four are attorneys and all from mining states of prominence.

"California has already adopted a law which has worked an almost complete riddance from that state of spurious mining stock and that state lecherous parasite on the mining industry—the fake promoter. It is probable that the proposed legislation which will be submitted to the state legislatures this winter, will be fashioned after the California law, which provides that any person who shall undertake to sell or assign to the public, privately or publicly, of a fraudulently exaggerated report tending to give any person or the public generally the idea of a greater value or less apparent value or market value than such stock may really possess, with the intention of defrauding any person or the public, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and on conviction shall be punished by imprisonment in state prison, or a county jail, not exceeding two years, or by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or both.

"The efforts of the American Mining Congress to protect the investor against mining frauds by furnishing information as to the true conditions at the mine, has made more apparent the necessity of legislation to suppress this evil, and it is hoped that all serious mining men will take an active interest and communicate with the secretary, to the end that the matter may receive the most intelligent consideration at the coming annual meeting. The Mining Congress never was in as strong a position to combat this evil, and the assistance of every mining man is needed to make its work more effective.

The city of Janesville may be represented by delegates appointed by the mayor. It would be a good thing for the town if a guardian of some kind could be appointed to protect the people from gold-brick swindles and fake promoters, and the city would be benefited by representatives at the congress. Jas. P. Callbreath, Jr., secretary of the organization, will furnish information on application.

The following from Printers' Ink is the experience of a man whose originality in newspaper advertising brought a fortune:

"TOM IS SUCCESSFUL."
"Tom Murray."

"Clothing, Furnishings, Hats and Shoes."
"Chicago, Sept. 8, 1906."

"Editor of Printers' Ink: 'I am a subscriber for Printers' Ink. If there is any man in the world who knows what advertising will do for his business, it is Tom, my business, year before last, was running less than $200,000 a year, a few months ago I felt that I could afford to advertise in the Chicago daily papers; took the chance, and I can truthfully say that I have not a dollar invested in advertising, the profits from the advertising come in to pay the bills before the bills are due. My business this year will touch about $600,000, which I consider wonderful, and the results have been obtained from newspaper advertising. The store that I started nine years ago—the first day of November—with a capital of $55 I don't believe will ever stop growing. The only thing that can stop it now is for the newspapers to retire from business. Yours, truly,"

"TOM MURRAY."

"What Tom Murray is doing may be duplicated by every man in business with results in proportion to the amount of energy and intelligence invested."

Mr. Bryan is busy explaining to his democratic friends that he didn't mean what he said about government ownership in his Madison Square speech, but the harm has been done and no amount of explaining will undo it. Mr. Bryan may be nominated in 1908, but that is as near as he will ever come to the presidency.

The festive flea is making life a burden to Milwaukee school teachers and Chicago is threatened with a similar epidemic. The average flea is noted for agility and he "gets there" with both feet on the slightest provocation. The educated flea will no longer be a novelty.

The Racine and Rock Island branch of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road, as well as the main line of the Prairie du Chien division, wanted to come to Janesville forty years ago, but we said "No." Didn't we make a mistake?

Rockford and Beloit are in closer touch than Beloit and Janesville. Why? Because the interurban road has freight privileges south of Beloit and two freight cars a day are necessary to accommodate the traffic between the two cities.

The primary law proved a disappointment to Mr. McGovern of Milwaukee, and nothing is left for him but to run independent. The man who isn't satisfied with one knockout is always entitled to another round.

Forty years ago the Chicago and North-Western ran their main line to St. Paul by the way of Afton because Janesville wouldn't have it. Twenty-five years later the city paid $40,000 for the mistake. Let's not repeat the blunders of forty years ago.

What a calamity it would be if the merchants of Janesville could increase their business, and yet this calamity is liable to happen if the Madison interurban line is built.

Janesville is trading along at the rear end of the procession, while neighboring cities are forging to the front. Does anybody know the reason why?

PRESS COMMENT.

Who is Boss Now? Milwaukee Sentinel: From bossism in Wisconsin to anti-bossism in New Jersey was an easy lightning change act for our versatile junior senator.

He Spelt It. Milwaukee Sentinel: Henry James declares against simplified spelling. But Henry should make some concessions in the way of simplified style.

His Opportunity. Milwaukee News: At any rate, Senator La Follette has been able to recover his voice in New Jersey. His case, indeed, would be hopeless if speech should have failed him in such a nest of money devils.

What's in a Name? Chicago Record-Herald: The labels on canned goods must in future indicate just what the goods are. People with weak stomachs should be cautious about looking at some of the labels.

Poor Old Town. Chicago Tribune: Kansas City is all torn up over the proposition to make the name of the town Kansas-city. Either form is wrong. Change the name to something distinctively Missourian.

And a Jag! Madison Journal: Alcohol can now be made from cornstalks, and before long the farmer can take his load of cornstalks to the distillery same as he takes his milk to the creamery now and return with heat, light and power.

How Does it Sound?

Monroe Journal: When phonetic spelling comes into general use how much time and labor it will save in reporting the going and coming of members of the Stataki, Ebi, Snidr, Tilt, Lmr, Getins, Nit, Pix, Strif, families.

Poor Czar. Oshkosh Northwestern: The Russian czar is criticised because he failed to attend the funeral of the late General Trepot, although it was reported that if he did attend the reds would make an attempt on his life. It is pretty hard to please some of the people in Russia.

What in Evansville?

Evansville Tribune: Next to the wife beater comes the horse beater and it is to be regretted we have one or two in this community. A horse is the most noble and faithful of animals and the man who would abuse his horse has something lacking in his manhood.

Stensland Declined. Chicago Daily News: Stensland's name has been rubbed off the list of the committee to welcome the visiting mayors. Mayor Dime has what appears to him reliable information that the former banker has a previous engagement.

Yes, Very Much So. Elkhorn Independent: The Lye Jar man on the Delavan Enterprise is certainly an unpoetic cuss. We not only judge from his poetry but from his new code of flower signals devised for sighing swain. "Onions," he says, signify "I have a strong feeling for you; cucumbers, 'You give me a pain' and so on down to the beans, the most poetical of all the flowers.

"Eddie the Bold." Green Bay Gazette: Assemblyman LeRoy of Marinette believes in taking time for the forelock. He has addressed his letters to republican nominees for the assembly asking them support for the speakership this winter. He has been a leading member of that body and is well qualified for the duties of presiding officer. It is altogether probable that he will be given the office.

Down and Out. Beloit Free Press: Dowie is finally down and out. At an election yesterday to determine who should be Boss of Zion, Voliva received 1,911 votes to 6 for Bills, with Dowie entirely out of the running. This action of the Zionites practically makes Dowie an outcast from the organization which he created, and it is reported that he will now go to Mexico to live on the remainder of his life, which in the nature of things is near its close.

Roosevelt, Rah! State Journal: The action of the republican state convention of Washington in adopting a resolution calling upon President Roosevelt to accept a third term is significant of the way republican thought is tending. State after state will now fall into line for him. The demand will be insistent and it is hard to see how the popular executive will be able to resist the pressure.

"Every Wisconsinian who read Senator La Follette's great railroad speech in the senate last April will be interested in 'The Love Route,' because it is the story of a woman's rightful fight against a 'corporation' that is simply one man's paw. A railroad corporation can hide itself without any apparent personal responsibility. If it did things as a private individual it would frequently find itself in jail for criminal intimidation. I want Senator La Follette to see the 'Love Route.' I want all railroad men to see it."

"The Love Route" was received with unanimous praise by the Chicago critics. This is what they said:

The Chronicle says: "From indications 'The Love Route' will prove one of the strongest of the many frontier plays presented during the past four or five seasons." The Record-Herald said: "The rough humor, the bright sun and the frank men of the plains are at the end of 'The Love Route' and it is a root worth taking." The Examiner declared: "It is immense. It is a great big, breezy play of the plains of Texas. It is filled with the elements that grip and hold the spectator in a breathless sort of trance, waiting for something explosive and dramatic and ear piercing to happen." The Post said: "It is a better made and more natural play than 'The Lion and the Mouse'." The News applauds the piece as "A tremendously and well built play." "It is pervaded with the spirit of rugged manhood," says the Journal; "and the courage and contrariness of independent womanhood. It is an honest, direct, well-knit and interesting play."

THREE HUNDRED PREACHERS HERE

WILL ATTEND WISCONSIN METHODIST CHURCH CONFERENCE.

TUESDAY THROUGH SUNDAY

Bishop McCabe to Be Guest of J. M. Bostwick—All Sessions Open to the Public.

At half-past eight o'clock tomorrow the sixteenth session of the Wisconsin annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will open at the Carville Memorial church here. Tomorrow there will be nothing but the day but the examination of young preachers. In the evening Dr. R. W. Hall of Chicago, Secretary of Epworth League, will speak and Dr. Anderson of New York will talk on education. To these, as to all sessions of the conference, the public is cordially invited. The meeting will continue each day through next Sunday. The morning sessions will be given over to the transaction of business and the afternoon and evening sessions to addresses by visiting clergymen.

Three Hundred to Attend For the conference there will doubtless be in the neighborhood of three hundred clergymen from away. These will come largely from the eastern half of the state as the rest have churches in the Western Wisconsin conference. The visiting ministers will remain through the entire program. Bishop C. C. McCabe of Chicago, who has been appointed to preside, will arrive from Fond du Lac at half-past eight tomorrow evening. He, with his wife, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bostwick.

Reappointment of Pastors The cabinet, which has in charge the business of reappointing pastors, will meet every afternoon at the home of T. E. Bannison on South Jackson street. The cabinet includes the bishop and the presiding elders of the conference. Dr. James H. Tibbitt will probably be retained for Janesville at the request of the local church conference.

READY FOR BEETS AT THE SUGAR FACTORY

Improvements Have Been Made—Already Contracting for Next Year's Acreage.

The extensive improvements at the local beet sugar factory which have been made during the summer have now been completed, and the big plant now stands ready to receive the crop of beets from the five thousand acres of beets which have been planted by its growers distributed over fourteen counties. The plant is in excellent shape and the plant will double its capacity as compared with previous years. The company will commence receiving beets on Sept. 25th at all the larger stations in Rock and Dane counties, and will follow up at the other stations as soon as the beets are fully matured. The company intends to receive the beets as fast as the railroad companies will furnish the growers cars, and has prepared everything for as prompt handling of the shipments as possible and expects with the assistance of the good will and co-operation of the growers to prove this year's experiment of weighing and taring of beets at all of its one hundred and fifty stations a success. Owing to the wet weather in the latter part of August and the beginning of September the samples which were first taken from the fields in Rock county and tested in the local factory showed rather a low per cent of sugar and purity and in general indicated that the full maturity of the beets was somewhat delayed. It was, therefore, deemed advisable not to recommend a very early harvesting of the beets, and although the last taken samples have improved considerably in sugar contents and purity the company still advises the growers to be sure to give the beets full time to grow and fully mature, and not to begin harvesting until the maturity is plainly indicated by the leaves turning yellow. The company is already a month ago started soliciting of acreage for next season in order to give the growers time and opportunity to prepare their beet ground this fall. In spite of the fact that the soliciting has heretofore been done mainly in the late spring, this early soliciting has met with considerable encouragement. A number of contracts have been already secured for next season, a great many fields are now being plowed, and from all parts of the territory reports of very good prospects for next year are coming in. The so-called hand labor contracts, by which the company agrees to assist the growers in hiring the help, seems to be in great demand owing to the satisfaction given the growers this year by the employment of foreigners in the beet fields, and while about one hundred men were brought into the beet fields of Rock county this year the company expects to double that number for the coming season.

LITTLE GEORGE HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Was Knocked Down by Horse and Was Slightly Injured by Being Stepped On.

Little George Kary had a narrow escape Saturday from being seriously injured by a delivery wagon. He started to go across the street in front of the Myers opera-house when some dirt got in his eye. He put his hand over his face and stopped a minute. While he was rubbing his eye a delivery wagon came along with the horse walking and the driver looking the other way. It struck the boy and knocked him under the horse, which passed over him. The back of the boy's head was bruised and his hand cut in three places where the horse stepped on it. His small size saved him from being hurt by the wagon as it passed over him.

EACo. FLOUR

We have secured the agency for this flour.

We believe that without a single exception it is the finest patent flour made anywhere in the world.

We have asked the makers of many of the best known brands of flour this question: "Do you make as good a flour as EACo?"

In every case the response has been, "No, we probably could, but don't do it because dealers won't pay the price."

This was frank, and convincing. It went a long way towards convincing us that "EACo" flour was in a class by itself, that it was the kind of a flour our trade would appreciate.

If you have flour troubles—If your bread is not as nice as you know you can make—If it is dark or coarse or heavy, don't bother with any more "best patents," just order a sack of EACo.

It costs a trifle more.

It is worth immensely more to you in a dozen different ways.

DEADLY RACE WAR IN CITY OF ATLANTA

ONE WHITE MAN AND SEVERAL NEGROES KILLED.

DUE TO CRIME BY BLACKS

Attempted or Accomplished Assaults
on White Women Told in Flaring Headlines Inflames Citizens, Who Turn Avengers.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 24.—A race war of alarming proportions began here Saturday night. Through the night it raged with varying vigor, and when morning dawned it found a number of negroes and one white man dead, a score of both races wounded and the downtown streets in possession of eight companies of the Fifth Georgia infantry, with a battery of light artillery in reserve. Through the day little of importance occurred. The police claimed, with the aid of the military, to have the situation under control.

Cause of Trouble.
This condition came as the result of numerous and repeated assaults or attempted assaults upon white women by negroes. The last of an even dozen of such assaults within the limits of Fulton county within the last nine weeks came Saturday, when four attempts at assault were reported. Flaring headlines in the special editions of afternoon papers wrought the populace to high pitch of excitement. The usual Saturday night crowds were largely increased by men and boys who thronged the downtown streets. There was no leader and no overt act until late in the evening.

Negro Attacks White Woman.
About ten o'clock a negro man shoved a white woman from the sidewalk on Whitehall street, in the center of town. Almost simultaneously a negro woman made an insulting remark to a white man on an adjoining street, and he administered what he considered due punishment. From this start the excited crowd, which had become a mob, began its work of destruction. Five thousand men and boys thronged the downtown streets looking for negroes. News that a riot had started brought thousands from their homes in the suburbs and residence districts, until fully 10,000 men thronged the downtown section.

General Assault on Negroes.
They made attacks on the incoming street cars. Each car was scanned for negroes. The trolleys were pulled from the wires and in the semi-darkness of the unlighted cars negroes were beaten, clubbed and stamped upon in an unreasoning mad frenzy. If a negro ventured resistance or remonstrated, it meant practically sure death.

One car half filled with negroes approached from an outside run. The mob dashed for the car. Resistance was made by the negroes, who had not been apprised of the trouble. Three negroes lay dead on the floor of the car when it was permitted to move on, and two more were beaten into unconsciousness.

Mayor Tries to Stop Mob.

When the crowd seemed to be getting beyond control, at about ten o'clock Mayor Woodward mounted a car platform on Peachtree and Marietta streets and urged the crowd to disperse, declaring that the assaults of the white women would be adequately and promptly punished by due process of law. Mayor Woodward was given a respectful hearing, but when he finished the work of destruction was resumed. He made another appeal a few moments later, but without result. Then he turned in a general fire alarm, calling the entire department to the scene.

Orders Chief to Clear Streets.

To Chief Joyner he gave the laconic order, "Clear the streets." The result was to stop the mob in its work at that immediate section and to drive it to other streets. The situation became so threatening at 11 o'clock that Gov. Terrell was appealed to order out the state troops.

Although no request had come from the sheriff, Gov. Terrell gave the order mobilizing the eight local infantry companies at once. Previously a police riot call had been sounded summoning all police reserves to headquarters.

Negroes Flee from City.

Throughout the day hundreds of negroes have been fleeing the city, by train and wagon and on foot they have hurried from the city, fearing the possibilities of trouble in the immediate future.

In the fighting Saturday night negro women were the most warlike, urging resistance to the mob and themselves fighting like Amazons. In the residence districts great anxiety was felt. The police force was centered downtown, practically leaving the residence districts without protection.

Many families temporarily without male protection feared the possibility of danger of which they knew but little.

Mob Destroys Property.

The lawless character of the mob was fully demonstrated during the latter part of the evening. When negroes had vanished from the streets the aimless mob from pure wantonness broke windows and damaged property.

BISHOP M'GABE FOR WAR

WOULD LIKE TO TAKE PART IN CONFLICT WITH TURKEY.

Declares the World Doesn't Want Such Rulers as the Sultan and the Czar of Russia.

Ishpening, Mich., Sept. 24.—Bishop C. C. McCabe, of Philadelphia, who is presiding over the session in progress here of the Detroit M. E. conference, in a sermon Sunday in the First M. E. church on "Religious Liberty," said that he would like to see war declared against the sultan of Turkey.

He told of the persecution and outrages practiced on Christians in Turkey, and of ill treatment accorded Jews in Russia and then caused almost general applause by saying:

"We as a nation are for peace. We don't want any more war. I am as a general thing opposed to war, but I'd like to see one more war; one against the sultan of Turkey and I'd like to participate in it."

"I'd like to see Dewey, with a good fleet sail up the straits of Bosphorus. We don't want any more such rulers as the sultan of Turkey and the czar of Russia. In every case in history we find God has raised great leaders at proper times and we need have no fear about the future of Russia."

Leading Football Contests

Obstacles In Way of Deciding Championships This Year.

Big Gridiron Games In the East Are to Begin on Oct. 27.

It will be next to impossible to select a football champion of either the east or the west this fall except by the very unsatisfactory method of comparative scores.

Harvard has finally succeeded after straining herself to accomplish it for a good many years in breaking away from Pennsylvania, thus leaving the Quakers out in the cold as far as any games with the big four are concerned.

Thus Penn's only chance of being styled the eastern football champion is for her to beat Cornell in the annual Thanksgiving day game after Cornell shall have beaten Princeton, who in turn must beat Yale and have Yale subsequently lose to Harvard. So Penn's only hope may be summed up as a million to one shot.

As for Michigan, she has no opportunity to regain her title to the western championship, lost to Chicago last year, because all the western teams have omitted her from their schedules, another penalty of merit.

Therefore while the Penn-Michigan game in Philadelphia is bound to be a rattling contest between two crack teams of the east and west, also giving easterners the first opportunity of seeing the great West machine in action, it will unfortunately prove little.

Meanwhile Yale is the only one of the big four to have two "big games" on the list being booked for their usual battles with Princeton and Harvard, the former on Nov. 17 and the other a week later. But Harvard has only her Yale game and Princeton that and the Cornell game too.

Columbia has joined the Down and Out society and is not especially missed. Her place may be taken by a New York professional football team. Such a project is now smoldering among promoters, who hope to corral a cluster of college stars and play with the professional teams of Pittsburgh, Franklin, Pa., Massillon, O., Syracuse, W. tertown and maybe a few college teams. If this pro team foibles, the Princeton-Cornell game will be the only one for New York.

Harvard will start the big games with her annual rally at West Point on Oct.

meeting and conference. The object is to form a permanent organization which will work for the development of northern Minnesota and the Red River valley portion of North Dakota.

The Roundup By Willie West

He Points Out the Folly of the Average Bettor on Running Horses.

"One of the most laughable things I ever witnessed on a ball field was a contest between Griffith, then with Chicago, and Kip Seibach in Washington years ago. The situation came up at the end of a close game. Chicago had scored, and with one out, Washington had two men on bases with Seibach, the best hitter on the team, at bat. Griffith monkeyed with him, delayed, threw the ball around, until he had Kip wild with nervousness. They were kidding each other continually, and finally Griffith remarked:

"Here, you big fat guy, hit this." He turned his hand backward and pitched the ball with the old straight arm toss. As the sphere floated up to the plate, Seibach, anxious to knock the cover off it, got overbalanced and fell on his hands and knees, and the ball went over the plate squarely above his back. The umpire called him out on strikes, and Kip was so mad he wanted to assault Griffith.

"I hear that the good old United States Lawn Tennis sewing circle is to send another team to England next year. Why not use the money that will be spent to buy a few real players from somewhere? American tennis playing is a standing joke to the Britishers just now, and unfortunately, just so. If our leading players practice and develop, for a few years, perhaps they will be almost able to almost win from England, somehow, somewhere, some time or other.

"Come out and play golf," said an eastern friend to Napoleon Lajoie, the mighty Cleveland sphere awriter, a few days ago.

"No, thanks," answered Larry. "I can't stand the strain of making a fool of myself for three or four hours in a line. Golf isn't a game; it's a disease."

"Guess Larry will have to run to cover if that remark is taken in some quarters, where pounding the pills is popular.

"The bookmakers and race track associations have reaped a luscious, gorgeous harvest from the pocketbooks of the betting public this year. The 'in and out' running of many supposedly high class thoroughbreds has been primarily responsible.

"The bookies say that the increased facilities at the public's command for obtaining information as to trials and workouts, owing to the unprecedented number of tipsters and 'clockers' has lowered the profits of the 'layers' of odds. But the 'bookies' know better down in their own innocent souls. They know that 1906 and 1907 saw new records made in the losses of the public.

"And yet the public follows blindly on, attempting to beat a game in which under the most favorable circumstances the chances are 65 per cent

BODY CUT TO BITS IS FOUND BY POLICE

EVIDENCE OF REVOLTING MURDER IN NEW YORK.

HEAD AND THIGHS GONE

Portions of the Corpse Are Uncovered in Excavation for Brewery Building and Under Hay in Freight Car.

New York, Sept. 24.—A burial bag stamped with the name "Z. K. Mano," a strip of a woman's skirt, and an oil cloth table covering bearing a rude sketch of the landing of Columbus, are the only immediate clues to the perpetrators of a revolting murder committed in the early hours of Sunday morning and accidentally revealed by a gruesome discovery in West Thirty-sixth street.

The dismembered body of a man apparently an Italian, wrapped in the burial bag was found in a hole 24 feet deep forming a part of an excavation at 604 West Thirty-sixth street, where an addition to a brewery is to stand.

Find Portions of Body.

The discovery was made by the day watchman for the building contractors and later a systematic search by the police resulting in finding the parts of a man's legs from the knees down, and the arms and hands. These were wrapped together in a newspaper of the date September 10 and bound about the bundle was a strip of a woman's skirt. All was neatly and securely tied, with a string suggesting deliberate preparation.

This latter bundle was found under a covering of hay in a freight car at Thirty-sixth street and Eleventh avenue. The car was unloaded of a shipment of horses Saturday.

Head and Thighs Missing.

The head and the thighs of the man are missing. It is the theory of the police that the murder was committed near where the body was found and that three packages of the dismembered parts had been made with the purpose that they be disposed of at some distance from the scene of the crime.

The police believe that the persons carrying the bundles became alarmed and hurriedly disposed of them at the nearest convenient hiding place. They expect to find a third package in the same vicinity.

Work is Skillfully Done.

Coroner's Physician Weston, who examined the body, said the work of dismemberment had been deliberately and skillfully done.

There were three stab wounds on the body, one immediately over the heart, another in the left shoulder and the third in the right breast.

The burial bag bore the name of "Z. K. Mano," and was of the type which are in use in the importation of Syrian nuts to this country. In the directory the name Z. K. Mano appears as a nut importer of No. 67 Washington street, and inquires there show that Mr. Mano, a Syrian, died six weeks ago and that about three weeks since, his wife auctioned off the stock in trade of her late husband's business.

Bags Are Traced.

Something like 60 sacks, similar to the one in which the body was found in were among the effects sold.

Of these 15 were sold to Balan & Balash of No. 33 Washington street, also in the nut business, a number to a rug importer, while another man is reported to have bought some of them.

Two Laborers Killed.

Alliance, O. Sept. 24.—The caboose on a Lake Erie Alliance & Wheeling railroad bridge construction train was derailed and rolled over an embankment at Mechanicstown Sunday. Two foreigners were killed and S. W. Shepard, of Augusta, and W. J. Rhody and M. L. Sullivan, of Alliance, were badly injured.

To Clean Eyeglasses.

Let eyeglasses lie in alcohol for a few moments, then polish with chamomile. If the glasses are set into gold frames, a fine camel's hair brush will lift the dust and make them look like new.

KICKERS' KOLUM

Editor Gazette: The good work commenced in the spring and early summer on street repairs seems to have been allowed to lag. There are more poor streets and bad places in the streets now, seemingly, than before our efficient street commissioner started the good work of repairs. Right in the heart of the city are some abominable places. In the streets, Take North Jackson street just off Milwaukee, the first block is so full of bumps, ruts, holes, etc., that to ride over them is dangerous. This same street is but little better the next two blocks. Property owners paid for street macadam originally and to allow Tom, Dick and Harry to dig it into a jungle seems rather unjust. South Main street is another fair example. It gets worse as the days go by. There are any number of other bad examples in the city and it seems as if a club or society should be formed to better our streets. Why not "The Good Street Advancement Association" to help the street commissioners and the cause in general? Good streets are about as strong evidence of a city's prosperity as any one item about it. Poor streets are detrimental to the whole interests of the community. Janesville is not known favorably at present on account of its streets. Let's make a forward move in good streets and start right now.

BERTHA KALICH IS BOOKED FOR MYERS

Coming December 5—Two Excellent Shows This Week—Mr. Myers to Be Congratulated.

Manager P. L. Myers of the Myers Grand Opera House this morning booked Bertha Kalich for Wednesday, December 5. Miss Kalich is one of the noted actresses of the day and her appearance here will be one of the theatrical events of the season. She comes under the management of Harrison Gray, husband and manager of the famous Mrs. Minnie Maddern Piske. Mr. Myers is to be most heartily congratulated on the number and class of shows he is furnishing patrons this season. He has already presented nearly a dozen first class entertainments and has four bookings for this week. Two of these, "The Lion and the Mouse" tomorrow night and "The Love Route" Thursday night, are among the best on the road. The former is well known and is assured a large house. The latter is newer. It is now appearing in Milwaukee and the Milwaukee morning papers today devoted a column to favorable comment upon the piece and the players that are enacting it. It is a drama, similar in theme and construction to "The Lion and the Mouse" and the Chicago Post says that in some respects it is better. From such a paper it would be difficult to secure a higher compliment for any production. The other plays at the Myers are the four "Huntings in 'The Fool House' Wednesday evening and "York State Folks" Saturday night.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH.

TO MAKE US GLAD.

If apples grow on lightning rods
And pies come down like rain,
If fish would only chase us home
Or moose would take the train,
If every day were Christmas eve
And street-car riding free,
And every one was good to us,
How happy we would be!

If lightning called to bake the bread
And thunder played a tune,
And babies never cried at night
For candy or the moon,
If money only were fruit
That grew upon a tree,
And it were ripe the whole year round,
How happy we would be!

If offices were close at hand
To hear our faintest call,
With salaries attached to them
That didn't look too small,
If we could sit around and smoke
And still draw a little pay,
Without a blessed thing to do,
How happy we would be!

If monkeys did the kitchen work
And bees would only come
And jump their honey at the door,
I think it would help some.
If every dollar bill we had
Would straightway grow to three,
And we could always keep the change,
How happy we would be!

Opportunity.

Several gentlemen, with two very large feet have lately jumped on John J. Ingalls' poem "Opportunity," which has heretofore been regarded in some circles as being fully as true and binding as the Declaration of Independence or the imperative orders of a young wife on an old husband.

The burden of the poem is that a large, husky gentleman named Mr. Opportunity, with fame in one hand and a bag of gold in the other, comes thumping on the door of every man's house once in a lifetime, and if the householder is asleep or not there to extend the glad and itching hand it is all off with him forever.

This on close examination is found to be a mistake. There are opportunities lying all about our path if we could just distinguish them from double-back action jokes, but how is the dub to know when one of them knocks that it isn't his creditors trying to break into his house under false pretenses?

It Keeps Coming.
You wait for something to turn up,
And something always will,
You may be sure,
though it is but
An old and unvalued

The Gleaming of His Fate.

"That bald headed man is following the Scriptures, isn't he?"
"As how?"

"Why, isn't he letting his light shine?"

Cruel.
"You are always finding fault with me."

"Beg pardon. I don't have to find it. You actually sling your faults at my head."

Proves It.

"Do you believe in luck?"
"No."
"Then you are lucky."

Highest Priced Orchid.

The highest price ever paid for any orchid was paid in March of this year, at an auction sale in London, for a heavily-marked form of Odontoglossum, $6,035, and but for a small plant! It has enormous heavy blotches of chocolate brown on each segment of the flower, occupying approximately one-half the area—Country Life in America.

Moisture Affects Speed of Bullets.
A bullet which was fired by a charge sufficient to give it an initial velocity of 1,700 feet a second in dry weather would travel no more than 1,300 feet through moist air.

Stepping Stone to Militarism.

Miss Bunting writes to the women of England, begging them not to give tin soldiers or toy guns to their children, as such things "arouse a dangerous spirit of militarism" in them.
